FINDING PLACES ON YOUR GLOBE

Although a globe is spherical, with no beginning or end, there are two main reference lines from which all distances and locations are calculated. One is the equator, running east and west around the middle of the globe, dividing it into two equal halves. The other is the prime meridian, an imaginary line running from pole to pole and cutting through Greenwich, a section of London, England. Both of these lines are 0° and the globe numbering system starts at the point where they intersect. All lines running east and west, parallel to the equator, are called latitude lines. They are sometimes referred to as parallels because they are parallel to each other. Latitude lines are shown at 15° intervals north and south of the equator. The lines running north and south from pole to pole are called longitude lines, sometimes referred to as meridians. Longitude lines are numbered along the equator on your globe at 15° intervals east and west of the prime meridian at Greenwich. Using these lines a person can locate any place in the world. For example New Orleans is located at 30N latitude and 90W longitude.

RAISED RELIEF/EMBOSSSED GLOBES

RAISED RELIEF/EMBOSSSED GLOBES illustrate land features by molding shapes on the surface of the globe. Most raised relief globes feature subtle relief, allowing the user to better visualize mountain ranges and plains by attempting to show elevations and depressions.

GLOBE LEGEND

A GLOBE LEGEND is a scale and visual explanation of the symbols used on the map. Because globe and map symbols' meanings vary from region to region, a clear and concise legend is critical for conveying the distinctive characteristics of the globe.

POLITICAL VIEW GLOBES

POLITICAL GLOBES are designed to show governmental boundaries of countries, states, and counties, the location of major cities, and they also include significant bodies of water, deserts and mountain ranges.

TOPOGRAPHICAL VIEW GLOBES

TOPOGRAPHIC GLOBES are detailed, accurate graphic representations of features that appear on the Earth's surface. A topographical globe will depict deserts, plains, rain forests and mountain ranges.

TWO WAY MAPS

Many illuminated globes feature TWO WAY MAPS. These are maps that reveal another view of the world when the globe is illuminated. For example, a two way map may show a topographical view when un-illuminated and a political view when illuminated or a political view when un-illuminated and the constellations in the sky when illuminated.

TIME DIAL

Most globes have a TIME DIAL loosely capped over the north pole that is divided into twenty-four equal parts, each representing one hour (or one meridian). A time dial allows viewers to calculate the different time zones on a globe.

MERIDIAN (SEMI OR FULL)

The ring that encircles half of the globe (SEMI-MERIDIAN) or the entire globe (FULL MERIDIAN), normally attached to the globe on both poles and the base.

The Chicago Limited Edition 12 inch raised relief desktop globe is an exquisite product made right here in our Chicago factory! The heavy duty ash hardwood base with unique wood grain gives this product extra value and shows craftsmanship details with clear finish. A unique brown half-tone colored map complete with historical images of famous explorer ships provides a gorgeous setting for the world. The unique soft "velvet-like" finish of the globe and the "raised relief" embossing that provides a 3D like texture, invites you to explore this globe with your fingertips. The map features over 3,500 place names with political and provincial boundaries that are distinguished using grey-toned lines while rivers and coastlines are demarcated using lighter grey tones. The locations of waterfalls and canals are marked along with the locations of famous explorers' ships, placed in the regions that they explored. These notable figures include Christopher Columbus, Vasco de Gama, Ferdinand Magellan, Cheng Ho, James Cook, and many others.

MODEL#	GLOBE STYLE	GLOBE DIAMETER	ILLUMINATES
49203	BLUE	6" / 15cm

The Replogle 6" Magnetic Automatic Color Changing Levitating Globe is the latest and easiest to use in levitating globe technology. This 6-inch globe uses magnetic levitation technology to make the globe levitate in the air and rotate 360 degrees. This latest technology allows you to just set the globe on the base and when you turn it on, it magically rises, lights up and begins to rotate. No more frustrations trying to make the levitating globe float by hand. This floating globe clearly shows the topographical view of the earth and the geographical location of each country. This world geographic globe is a great addition to the classroom or for homeschooling research that will inspire a lifelong interest in learning more about geography, social studies, and science! The Replogle levitating globe includes long lasting LED lights that change color (red, blue, purple and green). This beautiful light up globe is the perfect night light for the living room and/or bedroom. This amazing globe floats quietly and stably rotates in the air, providing a beautiful display for your home, office or retail store.

Life Magazine commissioned designs of a "Dream House" for four typical American families with incomes ranging from $2,000 to $10,000 a year; a traditional and modern architect were assigned to each family. In Wisconsin, Bernard Schwartz, a Two Rivers Business Man, was ready to build a house for his family and gave Wright the opportunity to build his Life Magazine "Dream House". Wright modified the Life Magazine plans, changing the materials from stucco and stone to red tidewater cypress board and batten and red brick. Wright went on to design tables, chairs, hassocks, beds, fruit bowls, lamps and a couch with built-in bookshelves for the home. Based on Mr. Wrights classic bowl design Replogle has created two versions of the Frank Lloyd Wright 12" Diameter Schwartz Globe. The natural wood version features a white ocean globe ball with golden brown land masses. The light cherry version features a blue ocean globe ball with multi-color land masses. Both globes feature easy to read text for country, city and border demarcations.

This modern globe ball is held by a robust hardwood base and numbered die-cast meridian. This design allows for easy 720 degree viewing of all the countries of the world (360 degrees east/west and 360 degrees north/south) including the countries in the southern hemisphere. Standing 15" tall, the Frank Lloyd Wright Schwartz globes are both an attractive and functional accent piece for the home and office.

This is the world's most detailed globe, abounding with over 28,000 place names. Most globes list no more than 4,000 locations, but at 32" across, this virtuosic achievement in cartography holds enough detail to spark any geography lover's imagination, from the Scottish county town of Ayr to the Isthmus of Kra in Thailand to Panama's Las Perlas Archipelago. This floor-standing globe becomes a focal point of any library or captain's quarters, grandly cradled in a handcrafted mahogany frame that has been rubbed to a lustrous walnut finish and rolls smoothly on four casters. Our artisans spend more than 40 hours to complete each globe ball, the hand cut and hand-applied topographic map radiates with its ocean and six color political demarcations even when not illuminated from within by its internal 75-watt bulb. The solid brass meridian has been crafted and calibrated to show each degree. The blue globe map contains continental shelves which shows the extended perimeter of each continent and associated coastal plains. Plugs into AC. Hand-made in the United States.

This Illuminated Bar Globe sets itself apart from other bar globes in many ways. It has an up to date topographical map on the outside surface, and once illuminated, it shows an up to date political map on the inside surface. The globe ball also features a 3D raised relief texture that accentuates mountainous terrain. The globe is illuminated by safe and reliable rechargeable LED lights. The stand is a powder coated dark grey color that will go with any décor.

When you open the northern hemisphere you will discover a spacious drink cabinet which allows you to store a diverse number of spirit bottles and glasses. The base, made of sturdy metal, is also designed to accommodate additional storage of glasses and bottles. In addition, clean-up is easy with any spills due to the material of the globe ball.

This unique bar globe has a protection feature which includes a sturdy combination lock that can be used to secure select spirits or crystal drinkware. The stand's casters have a locking mechanism to ensure that the globe will not inadvertently roll and will stay in place.

This globe is a perfect decor piece for your home and/or office. This globe can also be personalized for that special someone for a small additional charge.

CHICAGO

MODEL#	GLOBE STYLE	GLOBE DIAMETER	WATER WAYS
35554	ANTIQUE	12" / 30cm

The Chicago Limited Edition 12 inch raised relief desktop globe is an exquisite product made right here in our Chicago factory! The heavy duty ash hardwood base with unique wood grain gives this product extra value and shows craftsmanship details with clear finish.

A unique brown half-tone colored map complete with historical images of famous explorer ships provides a gorgeous setting for the world. The unique soft "velvet-like" finish of the globe and the "raised relief" embossing that provides a 3D like texture, invites you to explore this globe with your fingertips. The map features over 3,500 place names with political and provincial boundaries that are distinguished using grey-toned lines while rivers and coastlines are demarcated using lighter grey tones. The locations of waterfalls and canals are marked along with the locations of famous explorers' ships, placed in the regions that they explored. These notable figures include Christopher Columbus, Vasco de Gama, Ferdinand Magellan, Cheng Ho, James Cook, and many others.

The Replogle 6" Magnetic Automatic Color Changing Levitating Globe is the latest and easiest to use in levitating globe technology. This 6-inch globe uses magnetic levitation technology to make the globe levitate in the air and rotate 360 degrees. This latest technology allows you to just set the globe on the base and when you turn it on, it magically rises, lights up and begins to rotate. No more frustrations trying to make the levitating globe float by hand. This floating globe clearly shows the topographical view of the earth and the geographical location of each country. This world geographic globe is a great addition to the classroom or for homeschooling research that will inspire a lifelong interest in learning more about geography, social studies, and science! The Replogle levitating globe includes long lasting LED lights that change color (red, blue, purple and green). This beautiful light up globe is the perfect night light for the living room and/or bedroom. This amazing globe floats quietly and stably rotates in the air, providing a beautiful display for your home, office or retail store.

OBELISK FLOOR GLOBE

MODEL #	GLOBE STYLE	GLOBE DIAMETER	RAISED RELIEF	RECLAIMED PAPER FIBER
22728	ANTIQUE	16" / 40cm

Frank Lloyd Wright (1867–1959) is widely considered to be America's greatest architect. He amazed the world with his architectural ingenuity and designs. His vision encompassed the buildings and residences he designed as well as their landscaping, art glass, furniture, lighting and floor covering - to create a unified whole. The Obelisk is an adaptation of one of Wright's vase designs developed in 1929 for Leerdam Glassfabrick in Germany. The solid wood stand is hand crafted of solid maple and cherry hardwoods by Replogle's master woodworker, Henry Krasuski.

SCHWARTZ

MODEL #	GLOBE STYLE	GLOBE DIAMETER	RAISED RELIEF	WATERWAYS
37554	BLUE	12" / 30cm
37556	WHITE	12" / 30cm

Life Magazine commissioned designs of a "Dream House" for four typical American families with incomes ranging from $2,000 to $10,000 a year; a traditional and modern architect were assigned to each family. In Wisconsin, Bernard Schwartz, a Two Rivers Business Man, was ready to build a house for his family and gave Wright the opportunity to build his Life Magazine "Dream House". Wright modified the Life Magazine plans, changing the materials from stucco and stone to red tidewater cypress board and batten and red brick. Wright went on to design tables, chairs, hassocks, beds, fruit bowls, lamps and a couch with built-in bookshelves for the home. Based on Mr. Wright's classic bowl design Replogle has created two versions of the Frank Lloyd Wright 12" Diameter Schwartz Globe. The natural wood version features a white ocean globe ball with golden brown land masses. The light cherry version features a blue ocean globe ball with multi-color land masses. Both globes feature easy to read text for country, city and border demarcations. This modern globe ball is held by a robust hardwood base and numbered die-cast meridian. This design allows for easy 720 degree viewing of all the countries of the world (360 degrees east/west and 360 degrees north/south) including the countries in the southern hemisphere. Standing 15" tall, the Frank Lloyd Wright Schwartz globes are both an attractive and functional accent piece for the home and office.

SAN MARCOS

MODEL #	GLOBE STYLE	GLOBE DIAMETER	RAISED RELIEF	RECLAIMED PAPER FIBER
31819	ANTIQUE	12" / 30cm

In 1928, Frank Lloyd Wright began creating drawings for the San Marcos in the Desert Hotel that was to be located in Chandler, AZ. The project was never completed due to the 1929 stock market crash, but the building design and the interior renderings contain a variety of interesting furniture and decorative features. The composition of this globe stand is adapted from the 60 degree angle legs and hexagonal top of a small accent table designed for the Dining Pavilion which was to be bordered by garden terraces of the San Marcos in the Desert Hotel.

HEXAGON

MODEL#	GLOBE STYLE	GLOBE DIAMETER	RAISED RELIEF	RECLAIMED PAPER FIBER
31821	ANTIQUE	12" / 30cm

Frank Lloyd Wright's overall concept for his buildings included the integration of the interior furnishings. In 1952, he developed a series of hexagonal metal chairs, tables and other furniture for the H. C. Price Tower in Bartlesville, OK that coordinated with the geometric shape of the building. Adapted from the hexagonal hassock design, this globe stand exemplifies the three Organic Elements used by Wright throughout his lifetime. The metal base is triangular, the wood globe support is hexagonal, and the globe is circular.

ENCELADUS

MODEL#	GLOBE DIAMETER
85412	12" / 30cm

Get to know Saturn's sixth largest moon, which has the most reflective surface of any object in our solar system, with this stunning 12" desktop globe. Astronomy magazine is proud to unveil the all-new Enceladus Globe. Using data from Cassini flybys from October and November of 2009, images were selected on overall quality, resolution, and viewing angle to bring out the topography and surface features of the moon. This richly detailed, injection-molded 12" desktop globe shows 80 of Enceladus' named surface features (a few were removed from the south pole due to the manufacturing process). The six types of features identified on the moon include craters, dorsa, fossae, planitiae, rupes, and sulci. Each globe is made of long-lasting durable plastic with just a single seam between hemispheres and comes with a clear acrylic display base and informational flyer.

CALLISTO

MODEL#	GLOBE DIAMETER
85410	12" / 30cm

Get to know one of the most heavily cratered moons in our solar system with this stunning 12" desktop globe. Astronomy magazine is proud to unveil the all-new Callisto Globe. Developed by Trent Hare at the United States Geological Survey Astrogeology Science Center using data supplied by the Galileo, Voyager 1, and Voyager 2 spacecraft, a mosaic was created by selecting data on overall image quality, reasonable input resolution, and availability of moderate viewing angles for topography. This richly detailed, injection-molded 12" desktop globe shows 154 of Callisto's most notable surface features. Ganymede's surface features range in size from 6.9 miles (11.1 km) wide for Saga Crater to 1,864 miles (3,000 km) wide for the large ringed feature, Valhalla. Each globe is made of long-lasting durable plastic with just a single seam between hemispheres and comes with a clear acrylic display base and informational flyer.

GANYMED

MODEL#	GLOBE DIAMETER
85409	12" / 30cm

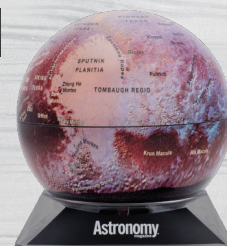

Get to know the largest and most massive satellite in our solar system with this stunning 12" desktop globe. Astronomy magazine is proud to unveil the all-new Ganymede Globe. Developed by Trent Hare at the United States Geological Survey Astrogeology Science Center using data supplied by the Galileo, Voyager 1, and Voyager 2 spacecraft, a mosaic was created by selecting data based on overall image quality, reasonable input resolution, and availability of moderate viewing and Sun angles for topography. A final projection mosaic was then reprojected to Mercator and polar stereographic projections. This richly detailed, injection-molded 12" desktop globe shows 194 of Ganymede's most notable named surface features. Ganymede's surface features range in size from 1.8 miles (2.9 km) wide for Anat Crater to 3,148 miles (5,066 km) wide for Mysia Sulci. Each globe is made of long-lasting durable plastic with just a single seam between hemispheres and comes with a clear acrylic display base and informational flyer.

PLUTO

MODEL#	GLOBE DIAMETER
81323	6" / 15cm

Custom-produced by the Astronomy team and Ross A. Beyer of NASA's New Horizons team, this highly-detailed globe is perfect for exploring Pluto. NASA's New Horizons spacecraft launched in 2006 and reached Pluto in 2015. As soon as it began to send data - especially photographs - back to Earth, the editorial team at Astronomy knew this would be the perfect candidate for a globe of this distant world. Scientists had expected a frozen, cratered, and long-dead world with an equally old-looking system of moons. Instead, Pluto's surface is young, with smooth frozen plains, icy mountains as high as the U.S. Rockies, topography that resembles dunes, a glacial lake, and ice that has recently flowed around other features in the same way that glaciers move on Earth's surface. Now you, too, can explore Pluto using imagery from the New Horizons spacecraft's fly-by in July 2015, including 45+ planetary features identified and labeled. Each globe is made of long-lasting durable plastic with just a single seam between hemispheres and comes with a clear acrylic display base and informational flyer.

JUPITER

81322	6" / 15cm

Marvel at the ever-changing surface of Jupiter, captured in this stunning 6" desktop globe, exclusively from Astronomy magazine. Developed by the staff of Astronomy magazine and Björn Jónsson, an Icelandic software developer and expert on converting spacecraft image data into stunning planetary maps, this globe was produced using images from the Cassini and Juno spacecraft. Jónsson first created a global map of Jupiter using only Cassini data way back in 2005. But in May 2018, he updated his original global mosaic with the latest Juno data, which added data on the coverage of Jupiter's poles. This highly detailed, injection-molded 6" desktop globe identifies 18 features, including The Great Red Spot, Oval BA, and the distinct bands of fast-moving clouds that run parallel to the equator. Each globe is made of long-lasting durable plastic with just a single seam between hemispheres and comes with a clear acrylic display base and informational flyer.

TRADITION & COMMITMENT TO QUALITY

Since its beginning in 1930, Replogle has become one of the world's largest manufacturers of globes. From handcrafted masterpieces to educational globes, Replogle has taken pride in manufacturing THE FINEST GLOBES IN THE WORLD.

Replogle Globes Partners are dedicated to maintaining and improving the Replogle Globes tradition of quality products and services. Our customers are the most important part of our business and we look forward to continue to service all the fine organizations that carry Replogle Globes.

Our mission of A GLOBE IN EVERY HOME is founded on globes being both a source of wonder and a way to help people make sense of their world. Replogle Globes Partners is committed to this mission and continuing the tradition of producing the highest quality globes in the world.

✕ LEAN MANUFACTURING

This philosophy allows Replogle to improve quality but it also enables us to reduce the Carbon Footprint within our factory. It has reduced the amount of energy usage through the reduction of machines and materials transportation.

✕ PAPER & FIBER PRODUCT RECYCLING

Replogle began allowing outside companies to pick up our excess paper & fiber. Replogle recycles approximately 340 tons of paper and fiber materials per year.

✕ PLASTIC RECYCLING

Replogle utilizes some post industrial reclaimed plastic in its manufacturing processes. The unused plastic is gathered from the manufacturing line and delivered to our in-house grinding room. There the excess materials are reformed into pellets and redistributed to our machines.

✕ PURCHASING

The Replogle purchasing department continues to source eco-conscious products for use in our daily production, office administration and maintenance departments. Currently, all of our production 'press-craft' models are made from post-consumer reclaimed paper fiber, making over 75% of our total globe output manufactured from earth friendly material.
